RAILROAD STRIKE NOW LOOMS IN WASHINGTON

HINES SUMMONS UNION LEADERS FOR CONFERENCE

Federal Director to Present to Brotherhood Heads Answer to Wage Demands at Meeting Tuesday

COAL STRIKE DISCUSSED

Leaders of Miners, at Meeting in Indianapolis, Confer on Order of Court

UNITED PRESS SUMMARY

While leaders of striking coal miners were debating in Indianapolis today whether they would accede to the government's mandate to recall the strike order before 6 p. m. on Tuesday, a possible railroad strike loomed up at Washington.

Rail Director Hines announced he had summoned the heads of the four railroad brotherhoods to meet him tomorrow when he will offer them a general wage increase, probably three per cent. The brotherhoods have demanded increases of 35 to 40 per cent.

Brotherhood officers, anticipating that Hines would refuse their demands, were preparing for a strike referendum. Should the brotherhoods decide to walk out, it is believed other railroad unions which are also seeking wage increases would join them.

Although additional mills are reported to be reopening from time to time, the steel strike is still in effect. Scores of minor strikes are also under way throughout the country, hardly a large city being without its local industrial conflict. Meanwhile the government and local authorities continued their roundup of alleged reds, who in addition to being charged with planning a nation-wide revolution were declared by some industrial leaders to be embroiled in the coal and steel strikes.

Meeting at Indianapolis

Indianapolis, November 10.—One hundred and one leaders of the United Mine Workers of America went into session at 10:21 o'clock today to decide the fate of the strike of 400,000 bituminous coal miners.

Half an hour after the meeting opened Attorneys Warrum and Smith for the miners left the conference. Warrum said he had no statement to make regarding the progress of the meeting. Steps were being taken, he said, to carry Judge Anderson's decision to the circuit court of appeals.

The meeting adjourned at 1:20 for lunch after three hours of discussion. The mine leaders decided to reconvene at 2 p. m.

Reports emanating from the hall indicated that everybody wanted to talk and that no vote was in prospect for several hours. The general impression prevailed that the strike order would be rescinded.

Federation Heads Meet

Washington, November 10.—The executive council of the American Federation of Labor went into session again today to discuss the coal strike. Members of the council, who last night issued a statement backing the strike and condemning the Indianapolis injunction, would not predict what the next action of organized labor might be.

The situation with regard to the coal strike is in the hands of the judiciary and whatever moves are made by that branch of the government will be fully backed up by the executive branch, it was authoritatively stated at the White House today.

At the request of Senator La Follette of Wisconsin the entire Federation of Labor statement on the coal strike was read in the senate today. By the time reading was half finished the few senators remaining in the chamber were reading other papers or conversing with each other. Senator La Follette interrupted the clerk and asked that further reading be dispensed with as it seemed to be a waste of time. At the request of Senator Norris of Nebraska, however, the reading was resumed.

CAR TURNS TURTLE—MEN HAVE NARROW ESCAPE

Four young men, three of them residing in North Fond du Lac and one in Fond du Lac, narrowly escaped drowning or being crushed to death when the five passenger touring car in which they were riding plunged through the railing on the northeast abutment of the West Division street bridge in Fond du Lac Friday night, turned a half-sommersault in the air and then fell into the river. Two of the men were pinned beneath the car and are now in a Fond du Lac hospital.

AMERICAN LEGION TO SHAPE POLICY OF ORGANIZATION

World War Veterans Meeting in Minneapolis to Work Out Plans for Future Activities —Monster Parade Armistice Day

Minneapolis, Minn., November 10—More than 2,500 delegates from every state in the union, in addition to ex-service men from Cuba, Hawaii, Porto Rico, Panama and Alaska, were in attendance here today at the opening session of the first national convention of the American Legion.

With a concerted determination to render the nation a public service as a memorial to their efforts in the great war and a monument to their fallen brothers-in-battle, the representatives of 1,000,000 ex-service men who have joined the legion will sit in convention today, the 11th and the 12th to draft a national policy and outline work the state chapters and local posts are to undertake.

Big Questions Up

Chief among the questions of policy to be decided at the convention are: Affiliation with political parties; granting bonuses to ex-service men; size of the standing army; compulsory military training; teaching of German in high schools; replacement of national guard units by state constabulary; status of Siberian and overseas service; deportation of aliens who refused to accept war service or who are present menaces to the country; payment of war risk insurance and endorsement of the Mondell land bill.

Stand has been taken on most of the questions by state branches.

Henry D. Lindley, chairman of the national executive committee, and other officials and members prominent in founding the legion, were early arrivals. These put final touches on arrangements for holding the monster convention and for entertaining the delegates and their families.

Morris B. Mitchell, chairman of the transportation committee, headed the contingent that met incoming delegates at the trains. They escorted the visitors to hotels where accommodations had already been provided. Most of the state delegations arrived in bodies. They carried banners of their states and wore badges made up of state colors and state flowers. There were scores of women in the various delegations, most of them wives and mothers or sweethearts of the war veterans.

Entertainment features will be provided by the Minneapolis War Camp Community Service and other local and welfare and civic bodies. Frederick B. Wells of Minneapolis is chairman of the local entertainment and program committee.

No program of entertainment is provided by the legion itself, it impressing on the delegates that they are here for serious business and not for pleasure. The legion officials, however, urged veterans to accept the hospitality of Minneapolis citizens and welfare bodies and to enjoy the varied social features provided.

A monster parade for tomorrow has been planned. Veterans of other wars will participate as will prominent Minneapolis and St. Paul citizens. Governor Burnquist will welcome the members on behalf of Minnesota and the twin cities. Speeches will also be made by city officials.

Reduced rates were given delegates by the railroad administration. Return trips are good in some cases until November 24 and scores of delegates have expressed their intention to visit adjoining states and to go to Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City and many other cities in the mid-west corn and wheat belt.

First business of the convention, after examination of credentials, is to take up state organization reports and to submit recommendations and resolutions of state branches and individual posts. These many and varied suggestions of policy will be "boiled down" to a general report by the committee on resolutions and will be voted on by the assembled delegates as the expression of the sentiment of the convention.

Various state and city delegations have already begun campaigns to land the next national convention. San Francisco's delegation will likely be strong contenders. They have already begun a drive to land the meeting. Among other cities that will ask for the convention, and will make hot fights for it, are Chicago, New York, Boston, St. Louis, Kansas City, Denver, Omaha, Milwaukee, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Louisville, Atlanta, New Orleans, Seattle and Los Angeles.

TIE UNBROKEN AT GAME'S END

Stevens Point and Grand Rapids Football Elevens Battle Through Four Quarters to 0 to 0 Count

FUMBLE PREVENTS TOUCHDOWN

Local Players Fail to Score After Advancing the Ball to One Foot Line

Before a crowd which included several hundred Stevens Point fans, the Grand Rapids and Stevens Point High school football teams played to a scoreless tie at Grand Rapids on Saturday afternoon, repeating the performance of the River Falls and Stevens Point Normal teams here on Friday. Twice in the Normal game Stevens Point came near to scoring and twice in the High school contest the local team was close to the enemy goal line, but a fumble in one case and an intercepted pass by Grand Rapids in the other determined that the contest should end in an 0 to 0 score.

Lose Chance to Score

Stevens Point chose to receive in the opening quarter after winning the toss and Oster punted on the fourth down after no material gains had been made. The locals recovered the ball on Grand Rapids' 25-yard line but it was lost to the Rapids on downs on the 20-yard line. The Point players then held their opponents for downs and carried the ball to the 12-yard line by a forward pass and line buck by Oster. Ernest Holman caught a difficult pass and plunged forward for a gain of more than 10 yards. The teams lined up with the Point one foot from the goal line on the first down, but a fumble spoiled an almost certain touchdown and the ball went to the Rapids, the teams promptly punting out of danger.

The playing in the first few minutes of the opening quarter indicated that the game would end in a Stevens Point victory, but the Rapids men came back with a surprising amount of strength and played stubbornly and consistently until the final whistle terminated the contest.

Grand Rapids players broke loose twice toward the end of the first quarter for end runs of 20 and 17 yards. The quarter ended with the Rapids team in possession of the ball in Stevens Point territory.

Threaten Point Goal

Grand Rapids came the closest to scoring at any time in the game in the second quarter when the team advanced the ball to Stevens Point's eight-yard line on a long forward pass. The local players held their opponents for no gain on the next down and on the fourth attempt the Rapids tried to score by throwing a forward pass to one of its men who ran for the end zone. The pass was incomplete, however, and the oval went to Stevens Point for scrimmage on the 20-yard line. The half ended a few seconds later.

Coach Vincent's men showed considerable strength in the third quarter when they began a march down the field to their opponents' goal line. The locals were put back on a penalty and a 12-yard pass to Vaughn brought the ball a few inches short of the distance required, placing the locals on the defense again.

Lose Second Chance

Grand Rapids fumbled the ball on the 25-yard line and it was recovered by a local player, again giving Stevens Point a chance to threaten the enemy goal line. Oster and Holman carried the ball to the 11-yard line. On the fourth down Stevens Point attempted a pass behind the Rapids goal line, but it was intercepted by Millenbah who ran 25 yards toward the goal line defended by the Point, there to be tackled by Cate who overtook him.

The local eleven attempted to score by resorting to Oster's toe in the final quarter, but the placement kick missed going inside the posts by a narrow margin. It was attempted from the 20-yard line. Punts were exchanged frequently as the contest neared a close, but the teams fought evenly and the score remained tied at its close.

Point Line up

The line-up of the local team follows.

Longhurst-Finch, re; Hale, rt; Voge-Johnson, rg; Wilson, c; Redfield-Bright-Langenberg, lg; Cate-Bright-Longhurst, lt; Razner, le; H. Vaughn, q; Ernest Holman, lh; Fritz Vaughn, Marx, rh; Oster, f. R. W. Fairchild; referee; C. F. Watson, umpire.

Special Train Runs

A special train carrying rooters who filled three coaches left Stevens Point shortly after 12:30 Saturday afternoon, arriving at the Rapids a little more than an hour later. Twenty members of Weber's band accompanied the fans, the money for paying their expenses having been raised by a subscription list. The rooters headed by the band, conducted a parade through the principal streets of the Rapids prior to the game.

A dancing party was given at the Grand Rapids High school in the evening and there was also a dance at the Armory. The special left Grand Rapids shortly after 9 o'clock. In addition to those who made the trip on the train, many other local people motored to Grand Rapids, returning at the close of the game.

Crowd Is Orderly

The hostile spirit which has characterized athletic contests between teams representing the two schools in past years was lacking on Saturday. The crowd was good natured, orderly and well managed and no quarrels were started on the field. Officers kept the spectators off the field and wires bounding the gridiron helped keep the crowd back. The rivalry between the two teams was keen and interest was at a high pitch, but the contest was void of unnecessary roughness or "dirty" playing.

The Mosinee High school team was scheduled to play the Grand Rapids second team as a curtain raiser to the big game, but the Mosinee players failed to put in an appearance.

GAME CLUB FEED SERVED TONIGHT

Rabbit Sauer, Fried Rabbit And Squirrel Pie Are Among The Numerous Dishes to be Served

The big "feed" of the Portage County Fish & Game Protective association will be held in the Odd Fellows hall at 6:30 o'clock this evening. A large attendance of members is looked for. Members, whether active or not, are invited to be present. No charge for the dinner is to be made to members. Others may become members by payment of $1, and all interested are invited.

During the past ten days various hunting parties have brought in game and up to this morning more than 50 rabbits had ben killed for the banquet, in addition to a quantity of squirrels.

A part of the rabbits have been picked and will be served in hasenpfeffer style and others will be fried. There will also be squirrel pie, salad, potatoes and other good things to eat.

The motion picture on wild life which was to have been shown at the Strand following the banquet, will come at a later time. The game association received word a few days ago that it was impossible to have the film here for November 11.

OFFICER AT NEKOOSA WON'T BE DISCHARGED

Village Marshal Ousted by Board Following Judge Park's Injunction Patrols Old Beat as Usual

Marshal William Wilson, Nekoosa, has been discharged by the officers of that town, but refuses to quit the job in spite of the fact that he has been notified that he is out of a job and is not on the pay roll. He makes his beat regularly each night and refuses to turn in his equipment.

Wilson's resignation was asked last Monday when the village officers made a shakeup in the police force. Officer McLeon, the other half of the force, resigned, and turned in his equipment Wilson claims that the village officers cannot discharge him without giving him a hearing, and has retained attorneys and threatens to sue the village.

The shakeup followed an injunction decision made by Judge E. B. Park of this city in regard to the Nekoosa-Edwards strike. At that time the Judge stated that 'the Nekoosa village officers were either hopelessly incompetent or in league with the law breakers."

THE HANDY MAN

WOOD COUNTY PLANS BIG HIGHWAY PROJECT

Concrete Road from Marshfield to Grand Rapids Will Be Recommended to Wood County Board

Highway Commissioner Amundson of Wood county will recommend to the Wood county board which convenes this week, the construction of a county highway from Grand Rapids to Marshfield, to be completed in the summer of 1920. Mr. Amundson claims this should be the first work carried on under the new program of building the county by color de roads.

No particular route is designated as the route to be taken to connect up the two big cities of the county, and it is quite likely that it is the intention of Mr. Amundson to let the county board decide this one to be established.

There are but two available routes, one would be by way of Vesper, Auburndale and Arpin and the other by way of Pittsville. The latter is about two miles farther than the Vesper-Arpin-Auburndale route and the people from those vicinities will use that argument in an endeavor to get the county board to build over that route.

The Pittsville route will have its adherents and may be able to present arguments which will split the sentiment of the board.

SEEKING NEW MEMBERS

Local Woman Assists in Conducting W. C. T. U. Drive

Mrs. Ella T. Sanford returned Sunday from a several weeks' trip in neighboring counties in the interests of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

SUGAR PRICE 12½ CENTS

United States Attorney in This District Says Price Stays

The price of sugar in the western Wisconsin district, which includes Portage county, will remain at 12½ cents retail, so far as Albert C. Wolfe, federal district attorney, is concerned.

He said so, following publication of the announcement that the state price commissioner for Uncle Sam had fixed the price at 14½ and 15 cents.

"I have received no instructions from Attorney General Palmer to permit more than 12½ and 13 cents to be charged for sugar," declared Mr. Wolfe. "Until such an order is received, I must insist upon a strict compliance with the price regulations previously announced."

URGES OBSERVANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY

Governor Philipp, in Proclamation, Calls on People of Wisconsin to Celebrate Anniversary of Peace

Gov. E. L. Philipp has issued a proclamation urging the statewide observance of Armistice Day, November 11.

"While celebrating Armistice Day," the governor said, "the American people will remember that both the army and navy included distinguished service, who brought the war to a speedy close, and that patriotic devotion, such as American soldiers and sailors manifested in time of war, is due to the nation from all its citizens [illegible] as it is in war. * * * No citizen should permit his patriotic sentiments to be dampened by unfair or false criticisms of our government, nor place any faith in the un-American doctrines that are brought to us from foreign shores.

* * * I recommend that patriotic services be held in the schools and colleges of the state, and that the American flag be displayed from all public buildings, and I further recommend that a brief portion of the day be devoted to patriotic exercises, wherever that is possible."

WILDE IS ACQUITTED

Carelessness of Auto Driver Was Not of Criminal Kind, Judge Park Rules

Waupaca—Judge Byron B. Park of Stevens Point, in circuit court, directed the jury to bring in a verdict of "not guilty" in the case of Earl Wilde, who was charged with manslaughter for the death of Colburn Carlson who died from the effects of a collision of automobiles on the morning of August 10, Wilde having driven the car which collided with the one occupied by Carlson.

Judge Park stated after the testimony was all in, that while the defendant was unquestionably guilty of "negligence" that it was not of a criminal type such as was contemplated by the law, and he ordered the jury to bring in the verdict as stated.

CLOSING ORDER LITTLE OBEYED

Most Stevens Point Business Houses Stick to Old Schedule on Sunday Despite Action of Council

PFIFFNER STATES HIS POSITION

District Attorney Says He Will Act on Complaints Filed by City Officials

From Monday's Daily.

Stevens Point split on the enforcement of the council's order providing for the closing on Sunday of theaters, billiard halls, fruit stands and all places where soft drinks are sold.

The down-town business district was "as usual" throughout the day, all places accustomed to being opened on Sunday in the past paying no heed to the council's order. The South Side business district, however, was closed tight, except for eating houses. It was impossible to even buy a paper in that district except on the street. The one billiard hall on the South Side was closed all day, while the three in the downtown district were running the same as before the council decided to close things up tight.

According to Chief of Police John S. Hofsoos there was not a saloon in the city open on Sunday, so to that extent the closing order was effective uniformly throughout the city. "We kept a close check on all business places," the chief told the Journal-Gazette. "We did not find one saloon open during the day, but we have the names of owners of theaters, billiard halls and soft drink purveyors who operated."

Put To District Attorney

The question of enforcing the closing order was put up to District Attorney Pfiffner by Chief Hofsoos. The district attorney, following a conference with the chief, gave this statement to the Journal-Gazette:

"The council, when it passed the closing ordinance, evidently labored under the impression that it had city ordinances covering the question, or, if it did not, aimed to involve the old 'blue laws' of the state. While I am in sympathy with the proposal to close the billiard halls on Sunday, I am not in sympathy with the suggestion that other businesses be closed, such as picture shows, ice cream parlors and restaurants. The chief of police and assistant chief came to me this morning to ask what should be done. I told them that if the mayor, city attorney or any other city official, including the aldermen, would ask for a warrant against any persons accused of unlawfully keeping their places of business on Sunday I would gladly issue a warrant. My own opinion, however, is that of those who kept open Sunday were only technically violating the old blue laws and I don't believe public sentiment would stand behind any attempt to close the town up tight. I would quickly issue a warrant against any saloon keeper accused of keeping his place of business open on Sunday, for the saloon licenses provide specifically for Sunday closing. Regarding the proposal to close the billiard halls, I would suggest that if the city wishes to take this step the council pass an ordinance to that effect."

Mayor Not Talkative

When seen by a representative of the Journal-Gazette Mayor W. F. Owen would make no statement regarding the situation other than to say that he had not been officially informed regarding it.

Sentiment Against It

Among people generally there is a disposition to regard the council's closing order in the nature of more or less of a joke. Those citizens informed on matters of law point out that the city has no ordinances regulating the operation of picture shows, soft drink parlors, restaurants and other places of business except saloons and barber shops.

SAYS NORMAL SCHOOLS GIVE BEST SERVICE

"I believe the time has come when the normal schools of the country must render to the public schools a service that has never been rendered before," said C. G. Pearse, president of the Milwaukee Normal school, in a talk at the reunion lunch for members of the State Normal Alumni association in the Hotel Wisconsin, Milwaukee, Friday. "We have to make the teaching profession more attractive, we must have better compensation and we must aim to bring into the profession a lasting quality of personality.

"Normal schools must give the very best service in the world, for it is through the instrumentality of the normal school that the community at large is reached."

The Court Order Against the Coal Strike

Judge A. B. Anderson, in United States district court at Indianapolis, has issued the following order ending the coal strike:

"And they the defendants are further enjoined from permitting the strike order issued on or about October 15, 1919, to the miners and mine workers in the bituminous coal fields of the United States to take effect on midnight of October 30, 1919, to longer remain in effect, commanding them to desist from making such strike by permitting said strike order to remain in effect, and commanding them to issue a withdrawal and cancellation of said strike order and communicate the same to district or local unions, committees and members of the International United Mine Workers of America, as fully and completely as the said strike order has been heretofore distributed and promulgated to the said organization, its members, district or local unions or any committee thereof."

The order speaks for itself. The coal strike was called in defiance of the president of the United States with plain intent to injure the business of the United States, raise the people, particularly the poor, to suffer from cold, and to compel the public to consent to whatever tribute the leaders of the miners' union wished to impose. The movement, as Judge Anderson said, was practically a rebellion against the United States. To yield to it was to surrender sovereignty of the government to the officers of the miners' union. It was absolutely out of the question to yield. No union, or any number of unions, are stronger than the government of the capitalist, nor all the capitalists, nor stronger than all the people, no farmer, nor all the farmers, nor stronger than the entire United States. No man, nor group of men, no matter who they are, must be allowed to defy our laws to the whole people of the United States. We want no czar, we are independent enough of any country in Europe to fix the terms on which the people of the United States might use the high seas. We put the kaiser in his place, and we are just as determined to put in their places any group of men, whether workmen or millionaires, bolsheviks or bankers, which attempts similar lawless acts with us at home.

The order of the court will be effective. Here and there it may be resisted by the ignorant, but the wise will yield to it at once, and whatever force is needed to impress it on the rebellious and the unintelligent will be applied. The coal strike, while it may run on in spots for a time, is as good as dead.

But the troubles which produced it must be remedied. In ordering the strikers to abandon their unlawful enterprise, the United States government undertakes the responsibility of seeing to it that their needs, so far as they are reasonable, are given prompt attention. The wages of miners must be made adequate, their working hours and conditions right. The operators must be brought to book as promptly as the workmen were. The people of the nation are not for the operators as against the miners; they are for the country as against them both. The firm hand of the government must be used to compel the operators to give the miners good wages and good treatment, and the public a square deal in prices.

Join the Red Cross Today

Armistice day Tuesday, when all the wheels of the nation will cease for one minute in tribute to the men whose sacrifice made the day possible, will be one of the most important days in the history of the American Red Cross.

On that day the Third Roll Call will close and the organization will know that the hearts of the people will respond to the call of the Red Cross in time of peace as well as in time of war.

Reports received at state headquarters of the central division in Chicago showed that the campaign in the states of Iowa, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois gained a remarkable impetus during the early part of the ten-day campaign. Most of the intensive campaigning, however, was left for Armistice day.

On that day social affairs of all kinds will be held after the minute of prayer for the men who died in battle, and the Red Cross Roll Call workers will be much in evidence at all these events. The house to house canvas of the cities will reach the apex on that day and every house where a Red Cross 1920 service flag is not on display will be entered by Red Cross workers, and all therein asked to join.

On the streets Red Cross girls will buttonhole every pedestrian who is not wearing the 1920 button, and those who have not joined will find progress difficult in the crowded sections.

The Red Cross asked for 20,000,000 annual members in order to maintain its present high standard of organization, the organization that was built up during the war. It is also seeking for $15,000,000 to be expended in continuing the relief work and other activities of the Red Cross at home and abroad.

In the central division it is expected that the 1,000,000 members will be enrolled and the $3,000,000 subscribed without difficulty.

The Rural Planning Law

The rural planning law passed by the legislature of 1919, (chapter 666), is now being put in operation. The work is in charge of the state department of agriculture and the law provides that the conservation commission, the highway commission and the extension division of the university shall cooperate. A committee to have charge of the work made up of representatives of these departments, appointed by Mr. Nordrod, is now urging the organization of the county committees as the law requires. Each county committee will consist of the county chairman, the chairman of the state road aid board, the county superintendent, and also three other persons to be appointed by the county board, men or women.

The success of the law will depend largely upon the work of the county committees. If these appreciate the purpose of the law and will in their personnel, as some have done, secure the cooperation of the interested farmers great results will follow. Interested persons who wish to see model social conditions improved and places of natural beauty and points of historic interest preserved in their town and county should ask the county committee to hold their meetings in school houses and town halls during the fall and winter. In this way farming communities will learn the purpose of the law and be able to cooperate intelligently. In this county there are a number of points of historic interest which should be preserved and attractive places which might be set aside and made pleasure grounds for the people of the county for all time. Whatever other counties may do this county should cooperate heartily with the state committee.

EPIDEMIC SERIOUS

Many Cases of Contagious Disease Abound in Fond du Lac

A conference of medical officers, including Dr. Hoyt, assistant state health officer, Dr. F. M. McGauley, city health officer of Fond du Lac and Dr. F. W. Leonard, president of the Fond du Lac County Medical society, was held Saturday morning to go over the smallpox situation in that city.

The conference ended in the resolution to urge harder than ever the need of vaccination. The situation in Fond du Lac demands action on the part of the people if an epidemic is to be avoided.

There are now 31 houses under quarantine as compared with 27 a day or two ago. New cases are breaking out, in practically each case with non-vaccinated people, a large number of whom are employed in industrial plants, or who have children attending school.

More stringent steps, which the board of health is capable of resorting to, will be avoided if the people fail to respond in the degree requested.

Society and Women's News

A most successful dancing party was held in the Normal gymnasium Friday evening from 8 to 12 o'clock. The girls of the school were the hostesses and the guests included other students, numerous young people of the city and the River Falls State Normal football delegation. A pleasing program of music was rendered by Webster's orchestra with a short intermission at 11 o'clock.

The gymnasium was beautifully decorated. A rainbow effect was carried out in a color scheme of pink and blue and yellow and white. Electric lights about the hall were covered with imitation flower petals in the four colors and a drop ceiling of lattice work in pastel shades extended from balcony to balcony. The several windows of the gymnasium were also decorated in lattice work and evergreen boughs were artistically arranged about the hall. Sprays of Japanese cherry blossoms were arranged at one end of the gymnasium.

PRAISE LAVISHED ON WAR HEROES

President Wilson, General Pershing, Secretary Baker and Others Express Admiration For First Division

M'GLACHLIN'S FAREWELL TO MEN

Commander Thanks Troops for Loyalty and High Accomplishments and Exhorts Them

Praise from President Wilson, General Pershing, Secretary of War Baker and other men high in official and military circles of the United States was lavished upon the famous First division and its commander, Major General E. F. McGlachlin of Stevens Point, on thier return from overseas and following the reviews at New York and Washington. The Journal-Gazette has received copies of some of this official correspondence and herewith publishes a part of it in the belief that it will prove of interest to its readers.

The President's Message

The message from President Wilson, transmitted through Secretary of War Baker, and directed to the division as a whole, was as follows:

"It is a matter of deep regret to me that I cannot be in Washington to review you and bid you a welcome in person.

"The whole country has followed your record in the great war with pride. It is impossible justly to assess the achievements of one division where all acquitted themselves with such valor and distinction, but it is possible to see how each has won for itself a peculiar glory, and I am sure that I speak for the whole country when I praise you alike with my heart and with my judgment for the laurels you have added to the records of American steadfastness, valour, dash and inconquerable capacity. We welcome you with praise and with thanksgiving that our beloved country has produced such men, such champions of her own rights and of the rights of free men everywhere. It is an added pleasure that in welcoming you home we may at the same time welcome your gallant and distinguished commander. Your work is done, gallantly and nobly done. It now remains for us who gave you occasion to see that what you did is made forever complete by the concert of all the nations who love peace and pursue justice.

"Woodrow Wilson."

To this Secretary of War Baker appended:

"In thus being the happy medium through which this message from the commander-in-chief is delivered, may I add my own grateful congratulations and good wishes."

McGlachlin's Reply

In reply to the greeting of President Wilson, General McGlachlin said:

"The rank and file of the First division appreciate with very great pride the telegram of welcome and commendation from the president, received by me at the hands of the secretary of war on the afternoon of September 15. It has been published in a general order of the division, which will be read to each of its units at the points of assembly for the review in Washington and a copy will be presented to each officer and enlisted man.

"Because I assumed command of the First division after the armistice and am about to leave it for other duty, I may be permitted to speak of it perhaps more freely than otherwise would appear proper.

"Under Sibert in its period of organization and training, under Bullard, Summerall and Parker in its defensive and offensive operation, the First division established an unsurpassed reputation throughout the American Expedtionary Forces for reaching always its objectives at the prescribed hour, for holding every foot of ground that it had gained. From bottom to top it was moved by a spirit of unflinching determination to accomplish the missions assigned to it, by devotion to the beloved country whence it came and by unswerving loyalty to the president, to the commander-in-chief and to their subordinate and its superior commanders. Its reputation was evidenced by the testimony of its brothers in arms of all other divisions and services and it was often praised in orders by its superior commanders, French and American.

"During the march through Germany and its occupation of German territory among a hostile population it has been just, severe and efficient. Its fame has been untarnished by loss of morale or by indiscipline or by diminution of interest in its duties. I believe it to be today the best fighting division in the world, faithful to the gallant deeds of its dead, true to American ideals and the example of its leaders, confident of its own power, respectful of the high worthiness of other divisions. A particular characteristic of the division is the mutual trust in which the infantry, artillery, engineers, signal, machine gun, medical and train units and the staff hold each other.

"The personnel of the First division will in a few days be scattered to all the states and possessions. It feels that the president's cordially welcoming words do it a high honor, peculiarly gratifying at this time of the last appearance of its veterans in the organizatiion of the division as a whole.

"The first division asks that its gratitude for his thoughtfulness be communicated by the secretary of war to the president with the assurance that its personnel will continue their endeavor in or out of the service to conform to the highest principles of American citizenship."

Baker In Acknowledgment

In acknowledgeing this reply Secretary Baker said:

"I have received through the chief of staff your letter expressing the appreciation of the rank and file of the First division to the president for his telegram of welcome and commendation. In the absence of the president I venture to act in his behalf and to express his appreciation both of the record of the division and of its courteous acknowledgment of his message. I have formally transmitted the letter from the division to the president in order that it may become a part of the official files as commander-in-chief of the army."

Comments On Reviews

Commenting on the reviews of the First division at New York and Washington, Adjutant General Harris, in behalf of Secretary Baker, said:

"The secretary of war desires me to congratulate you on the splendid showing made by the First division in the reviews of September 10 and 17 in New York and Washington and to request that you thank your staff and all the officers and men of your division for the willing spirit which resulted in the complete success of both demonstrations."

General Pershing's Message

General John J. Pershing, commander-in-chief of the American Expeditionary Forces, telegraphed General McGlachlin at Camp Meade, Md., as follows:

"I desire to compliment you and your men on the remarkably fine showing of the first division in New York and Washington. Despite the difficulties in taking over new animals and impediments at the last moment, the material and transportation of the division was in splendid shape. The appearance of the men was, as always, magnificent and reflected the high state of discipline and morale for which the division was celebrated on the battle fields of France. Please convey to all ranks my congratulations on last appearance of the First division in connection with the American Expeditionary Forces."

Summeral Praises Division

Major General C. P. Summerall, a former commander of the division, paid it high praise for its wonderful record and commented especially on its fine showing in the reviews in New York and Washington. "The bearing of the officers and soldiers in the parade was the finest that I have ever seen, and I doubt if it has been equalled in any other ceremony of this nature," he said in part.

McGlachlin's Farewell

General orders issued by General McGlachlin to the First division during its period of occupancy of German territory attracted much attention in this country and abroad. He repeatedly warned the division against German propoganda, pointing out that the people in the occupied regions were technically enemies even though hostilities were concluded, and calling upon them to uphold their morale and insist firmly upon obedience to military laws and regulations.

The last general order of General McGlachlin to his men was issued at Camp Meade, Md., on the day of his relinquishment of command. It was addressed to the officers and men of the First division, expressed General McGlachlin's admiration for the brilliant record of the division and called upon all of its members to conform to the highest principes of American citizenship. The order follows:

"After serving with the First division for 10 months, the commanding general parts company with it today to assume command of another division.

"He thanks you, every one, for your loyalty, obedience and high accomplishments under his command. He feels that he can add nothing to the testimony he has already borne, in addresses and orders, to your admirable efficiency in combat, in the occupation of hostile territory and in the celebration of your homecoming. He believes you to be today the superior fighting division in the world.

"Welded into a harmonious whole by your mutual confidence and esteem, you are the glorious sample of the highest possibilities of our American manhood in the machinery of war.

"Within a few days you will be scattered throughout all of the states and possessions of the United States. You take with you his dearest love and gratitude and his warmest admiration.

"He asks you who leave it to keep steadfast in your mutual affection and true to the heroic memories of your old division. You veterans can be of immense help in its future efficiency by maintaining and showing your continued interest in it.

"He asks you who remain with it to keep in touch with those who depart, to be constant to the gallant example of our dead and to uphold the honor and fame of the First division.

"You can best honor it by conforming, in whatever walks of life, to its fine traditions and to the highest principles of American citizenship.

"May God speed you always."

Tested 250,000 Miles Three-Point Cantilever Springs Greatest Improvement Since Pneumatic Tires

OVERLAND 4 has been put through the most thorough and severe test possible.

250,000 miles of mountain trails, desert sand, heat, cold, mud and dust, demonstrated the quality of every part of the car long before we began manufacturing.

This remarkable test showed conclusively that Three-Point Cantilever Springs, exclusive with Overland, are the greatest improvement in riding comfort since the introduction of pneumatic tires.

They protect the car from road shocks and prolong the life of every part.

They enable the wheels to hold better to the road. They give greater comfort under all road conditions.

They do away almost entirely with side sway and rebound which twist and rack the car.

Diagonal attachment of the Three-Point Springs at both ends of a 130-inch Springbase gives the steadiness and smooth riding of the heavy car of long wheelbase.

Equipment is complete from Auto-Lite Starting and Lighting System to Marshall Divan Spring Upholstery.

HIGHWAY TALK FOOLS FARMERS

Trying to Make a Monkey of Him Again is the Opinion of Don Sawyer Who Recites Some Good Roads History

NOT FOR CONCRETE SYSTEM

Suggested that Gravel and Clay All Over the County Would Be Far Preferable

Editor Journal: Just a few words more in regard to the bond issue and roads. If you will hark back to the time the good roads movement started, you will remember how the Honorable Brown and others held a great sympathy for the poor farmer, how he was at so great expense to get his crops to market, and everyone was so sorry for him that, if he would only look up and map out the main roads he wanted fixed and call them state roads, the state would help him build them. So in the greatest confidence in our noble leader it was done. Bonds were selected and work was commenced. Then, who got it in the neck and who paid the bill? Did the state help? Oh yes, there were a few who got good jobs. The state paid its third, then turned around and assessed it right back to us. So we had their help to take it out of one pocket and put in into another.

Changed Again

Then the Honorable said they were too much for him at Madison, but if we would back him, they would try and change the way it was apportioned. So we went at it once more, and went at it on so large a scale that when the returns were in, it showed that the farmers were in earnest and wanted better roads. Well, who got it in the neck this time? Why the farmers, of course. Pro rata, they said, we can give you only so much and that was one-half of what was promised. Then those men who had got jobs sent one of their men to represent them and he told us, in county board assembled, that the plan was all wrong, that building a good piece of road here and there for the benefit of the farmers was not what the state wanted or could stand for, but we must have a trunk line system connecting the larger places, so our friends with their autos could get around better. Well, he being an Irishman, who could talk, after he had made all kinds of promises to those who were not benefited by the trunk lines, we fell for it, and so we have trunk lines.

Borrow Like Banks

Then the Honorable was sent to congress and through his efforts and others we got what is called federal aid, but in order to get it the state could not sidestep or pro rata as before. It means $20,000,000 to be expended in the state this year and the next four years, a nice little sum. So, with all this money to spend, our friends on the job say: "To hell with the farmer." And they sent a man again to tell us how to run our business. They say we are going to do one hauling on trucks and therefore must have permanent roads. And by bonding the county, which is very easy, now that they have the law passed, we can bond as stock as grease up to a certain amount and put in 75 or 80 miles of concrete road, a few miles here and there around the county. Then we will be doing something. Yes, oh yes. The interest won't amount to much—only $75,000 a year, and the man that borrows is the man that makes the money. Well, if I could borrow the way the banks do the county money, I think I might make a go of it. Give me $5,000 to start on with no interest and one and one-half per cent on daily balances on the rest. But there is always a pay day coming for some one, as we know by having to pay the railroad bonds our forefathers voted.

A Different System

He talks as though that 75 or 80 miles of hard road were all we would ever need. What about our trunk lines and state aid roads that we have started and all the farmers are anxious to see fixed up? Some are now in bad shape and they have taken it out of your hands to raise money and get any state aid for them. Do you not think that 700 or 800 miles of good clay and gravel roads in Portage county would be worth more to the farmer, and everyone else, and boost the value of the county more than 75 or 80 miles of so-called permanent roads of concrete, a few miles scattered about the county? We don't know what we would do with a mile or two in our town, unless we used it for a dance floor as they do in Waupaca.

They cite us to Outagamie and Wood counties. Wood hasn't been in the deal very long, but Outagamie has and is like Milwaukee—bonds and more bonds. Very easy, so that instead of paying the soldiers' bonuses in cash, they issue bonds and borrow money for someone in the future to pay. Well, Portage county is getting on its feet, pays cash and can feel independent and hope they will always do so.

Rich Old Plover

Now, just a word about the town of Plover. The time was when we all felt sorry for her. But we did not know she was born with a lucky spoon in her mouth. But owing to her location and natural resources (water power), she is now the one town in the county to be envied, has gone to the head of the class, has an easy time and no end of cash, but is still willing to put a mortgage on the county for the next generation to pay while we enjoy the benefits. Well, such is human nature.

Freezing means just as sure ruin to a battery as it does to radiator or cylinder casting.

But frozen batteries are far easier to avoid than frozen radiators.

No fully charged battery can freeze, even when the thermometer runs down way below zero. Be careful not to waste current, be sure to test with the hydrometer to see how well your battery is charged, and drive around if you think you are not fully "frost protected."

COUNTY ALLOTTED AID FOR HIGHWAYS

Sum of $155,586.85 Apportioned to Portage County for Road Construction on Trunk System.

NOTHING MORE IN SIGHT

Federal Aid Laws Make No Provision for Further Assistance, Letter Says.

Portage county's share of the new joint state and federal appropriation for state trunk highway construction amounts to $155,586.85.

This information was contained in a letter to County Clerk A. E. Bourn from the Wisconsin Highway commission. The letter also disclosed tht fact that this amount completes the allotment of joint federal and state funds under the present federal aid laws. The allotment includes the $40,000 appropriated for an 18-foot concrete roadway on highway No. 18 running along the west side of the Wisconsin river within the city of Stevens Point and the town of Carson.

Text of Letter

The letter follows:

"In accordance with the provision of Section 1314 of the Wisconsin statutes you are hereby notified that Portage county is alloted from the joint federal and state funds available for the state trunk highway construction in Wisconsin in the fiscal year commencing July 1, 1920, the sum of $155,586.85. This amount completes the allotment of joint federal and state funds under the present federal aid laws of the United States.

Method of Apportionment

"The joint fund available, $11,451,623.30, is alloted to the several counties one third on the basis of area; one-third on the basis of public highway mileage, and one-third on the basis of valuation. The area of said county is 1.466,218 per cent of the total area of Wisconsin; the mileage of public highway is 1.782,103 per cent of the total mileage, and the valuation is .826799 per cent of the normal valuation. Therefore, said county will receive 1.358708 per cent of the above fund, or $156,634.76.

"On Novmber 1, 1917, there was alloted to the several counties the sum $770,166.42, which we have since found to be $2,376.01 in excess of the actual final allotment to the state of Wisconsin. On November 1, 1918, there was alloted $510,276.28, which was $1,097.67 in excess of the actual final allotment to the state of Wisconsin. It has, therefore, been necessary to make a reverse allotment of these two excess amounts and the allotment to your county has accordingly been corrected. This leaves the next amount available to your county on this allotment equal to $155,586.85. These over-allotments were caused by insufficient notices from the federal department and were, therefore, no fault of the Wisconsin Highway commission.

Construction to Wait

"The amount alloted to your county for construction in 1920 may vary from the sum herein allotted and in several cases there will be no construction in a county in 1920 under the state highway law. The allotment for construction determined upon for your county is covered by a second letter of even date.

GOVERNOR IS ABSENT SIMS GIVES SPEECH

Local School Head Substitutes for Illinois Executive at Teachers' Meeting in Milwaukee

President John F. Sims of the State Normal school delivered an address at the convention of the Wisconsin Teachers' association in Milwaukee on Thursday, speaking in place of Governor Lowden of Illinois, who did not arrive to appear on the program. President McIver of the association requested Mr. Sims to speak.

Mr. Sims advocated effective organization of the teachers. He praised the work of the National Teachers' association which he said was responsible for the Smith-Towner bill providing $100,000,000 for the education of the youth of the nation, physically and mentally and for the uplift of teachers' standards.

"The nation as a whole should have vital concern in the education of future citizens," said President Sims. "We have a new conception of the word 'community' now. It used to mean, state, county, town or some other group. It ought to mean the nation and that is the new meaning we shall give it. The time has come to establish the principle that every dollar of the nation's wealth should be back of every child's education.

"The test of every community is the kind of teachers employed in it, and there is properly no other test. The national society is campaigning for better salaries for public school teachers. The minimum salary ought not to be less than $1,500."

BURNED CHURCH A REAL PIONEER

St. Stephen's Edifice, Destroyed by Fire Thursday Morning, Represented Catholics' First Effort Here.

CONGREGATION TWICE DIVIDED

Founders of St. Peter's and St. Joseph's Parishes First Belonged There.

St. Stephen's Catholic church, which was destroyed by fire early Thursday morning, was the first permanent church of that denomination to be established in Stevens Point and its congregation was twice divided as it became too large for one parish and nationalistic elements developed to such an extent that separate congregations became practical and feasible.

As far as it is possible to learn, mass was celebrated for the first time at Stevens Point by a Father Godfrey, a German priest, in May 1853, in a school house on Clark street known in recent years as the Cadman house. In the years which followed, Father Godfrey of St. Marie, Green Lake county, attended to the spiritual wants of the Catholics in this city, making the rather journey of about 60 miles between St. Marie and Stevens Point, every sixty or ninety days. During these visits he would celebrate mass in various homes until, at a later date, the Catholics rented a shop where the plant of the Wazeulin Publishing company now stands, for some considerable period.

Church Is Erected

When the tide of immigration set in about 1857, the Catholics became themselves with a view to building a church of their own. With this purpose in view William Collins, Patrick McGrath and William Lienard started out to collect a fund for the purchase of a site and the necessary materials. The church was finally located on the corner of Clark and Cross streets, on which the foundation of a church was hand-made logs. Father Godfrey was the first resident priest at Stevens Point. He remained in charge in 1858. In the early sixties Bishop Henni visited St. Stephen's and confirmed 50 persons. Confirmation services were held in this city.

New Site Selected

On January 12, 1861, James Pelland and wife deeded to Bishop Henni two lots at the corner of Clark and Pine streets. The title was held by Rev. M. Schlatzek, then pastor, removed the parsonage and on it also erected the church which has for fifty years stood to fire. Since that time a new brick parsonage and a sister's residence, of the same construction, have been erected on property adjoining the church, so, Stephen's parochial school, a fine brick structure, was erected in 1912, replacing the original frame structure.

Congregation Divided

The organization of St. Peter's congregation, which was an offshoot of St. Stephen's, was carried out in 1871 under the direction of Father Roznoski, who raised $800 for the erection of a church thus separating the Poles from the other Catholics in St. Stephen's. About five years later, Rev. N. July, who was pastor of St. Stephen's for 13 years, organized the Germans belonging to the congregation and established St. Joseph's church on Church avenue.

Father Rice Here Long

The present pastor of St. Stephen's Rev. W. J. Rice, has been in charge of the congregation since May 31, 1892.

To Use K. C. Hall

The officers of St. Stephen's Catholic church made arrangements to use Knights of Columbus hall in the McDonald block on Strongs avenue, for Sunday's church services. Mass were celebrated at 8 and 10 o'clock by the pastor, Rev. W. J. Rice. It is possible that the hall will be used for church services each Sunday until the new church is built, unless more satisfactory arrangements can be made.

The ruins of the old church will be cleared away as soon as the insurance claim can be adjusted.

LABOR CONDITIONS REVERSE IN WAUSAU

Labor conditions in Wausau have reversed in the last few days and instead of there being a demand for labor there are more men for jobs than jobs in that city. The condition came about because work has been stopped for the year on account of the Marathon county highways. The majority of the men seeking jobs have gone to work in the woods, where they will receive about $60 per month.

PUBLIC OPINION

How 'Bout It, Traut?

Filing Journal-Gazette:

The enclosed clipping from the County Gentleman regarding the schools of Los Angeles may account for Brother Trautmann's great love for that county.

An old jab,
DR. F. A. WALTERS.

The clipping:

"I am reliably informed that the houses are so close together that a number of pets are never tempted into small stalls by looking out the window just as somebody in the next house looked out his window. And one Sunday morning when a hen called 'My dear' to his wife, albeino women all along that block, answered 'Yes love?'"

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Ourich of Colfax returned home this morning after spending a few days in Chicago.

Mrs. John McGivern of Cadott is spending 10 days at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. H. Christensen, 902 Normal avenue.

A nine and three-quarters pound daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Holman on Friday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Holman are parents of four other girls.

TEAMS BANQUETED

ROLLING your own cigarettes with Prince Albert is just about as joy'us a sideline as you ever carried around in your grip! For, take it at any angle, you never got such quality, flavor, fragrance and coolness in a makin's cigarette in your life as every "P. A. home-made" will present you!

Prince Albert puts new smokenotions under your bonnet! It's so delightful rolled into a cigarette—and, so easy to roll! And, you just take to it like you been doing it since away back! You see, P. A. is crimp cut and a cinch to handle! It stays put—and you don't lose a lot when you start to hug the paper around the tobacco!

And, me-o-my, what a wad of smokesport will ripple your way every time you fill up!

Awaiting your say-so, you'll find toppy red bags, tidy red tins, handsome pound and half pound tin humidors—and—that classy, practical pound crystal glass humidor with sponge moistener top that keeps Prince Albert in such perfect condition!

Why Was Portage County Overlooked?

The United States Government had several million pounds of T. N. T. (dynamite) on hand when the armistice was signed. Recently the Government offered this dynamite to the various states through the County Agents who solicited the farmers in their respective counties, selling the dynamite at eight cents per pound; just about the cost of packing. The amount alloted to Wisconsin was largely oversubscribed. The Extension Department of the Agricultural College at Madison, Wis., is now working through the Senators and representatives to get another allotment. Marathon County was taken care of.
